Crs status reporting financial institution

Type	Description
Depository institutions	These are entities which accept deposits in the ordinary course of banking or similar business. Entities that fall under this category include financial institutions regulated under the Financial Services Act 2013 (FSA), Islamic Financial Services Act 2013 (IFSA), Developmental Financial Institutions Act 2005, Islamic Financial Services and Securities Act 2010 and Islamic Islamic Financial Services and Securities Act 2010.
Custodial institutions	These are entities which hold financial assets for the account of others as a substantial portion of their business. Such entities must include brokers trading or clearing, commodity brokers, trust companies and nominees, insurance brokers that do not hold assets on behalf of clients do not fall within the scope of this provision. This category includes a "custodian" as defined under section 13 of the Capital Markets and Services Act 2007.  These are entities which either: (a) primarily conduct as a business one or more of the following, for or on behalf of a customer - trading in money market instruments, foreign exchange, exchange, interest rate and index instruments, derivatives securities or commodity futures trading, individual and collective portfolio management, or otherwise investing, administering, or managing funds or money on behalf of other persons; or (b) have gross income that is primarily attributable to investing, reinvesting, or trading in financial assets and is managed by another entity that is a Depository institution, a Custodial institution, a Specified Insurance Company or an Investment Entity described in (a) above.  Institutions under this category include collective investment schemes such as mutual funds and unit trusts, fund distributors, advisory-only distributors and fund managers, fund administrators and securities lenders.
Investment Entities	These are licensed insurers under the FSA, licensed life insurance operators under the FSA, or their holding companies where such holding companies issue or are obligated to make payments with respect to cash value insurance contracts or annuity contracts. Insurance brokers and asset brokers are not classified as Specified Insurance Companies unless they are obligated to make payments under the terms of the insurance or annuity contract.

6.7 A financial institution can rely on one or more providers of services to comply with their obligations under Part XIX, however, due diligence obligations and information information remains responsibility for the financial institution. Since the total aggregate exceeds US $ 1,000,000, the improved review procedures for high-value accounts, including research administrator, apply with respect to both accounts to determine if the account holder resides in a reportable jurisdiction (See Priagraphs 7.35 to 7.49). Due due diligence and reports obligations under Part XIX should not unduly affect employers who offer benefits based à €
